Use your child's current IEP to review these questions. Check one response per row. You do not need to track every service minute or complete every item.

Question	Yes	Not sure	Concern
Do I know which services my child's IEP requires, and how often?	■	■	■
Do I know who to contact about each service or accommodation?	■	■	■
Does my child appear to receive the listed specialized instruction and related services?	■	■	■
Are classroom and testing accommodations being provided as written?	■	■	■
Are behavior supports or BIP provisions being used, if applicable?	■	■	■
Have I received progress updates at the frequency stated in the IEP?	■	■	■
Do the progress updates include information about IEP goals?	■	■	■
Have significant staffing, schedule, or placement changes been explained?	■	■	■
Do I know how the school handles missed or interrupted services?	■	■	■

Questions or observations: _____

_____

Next step: Ask the case manager for clarification or existing records, and request an IEP meeting if concerns remain. Keep a dated copy of your communication.

Important: A checked concern is not proof of an IEP violation. Whether an IEP was implemented depends on its specific requirements and the facts. Schools are not necessarily required to create a new tracking log upon request.
